Come Creator Spirit, visit the souls of Thy people, fill with grace from on high the hearts which Thou hast created. 2. Thou Who art called the Comforter, gift of the most high God, living fountain, fire, love and unction of souls. 3. Sevenfold in Thy gifts, finger of the Father's right hand, Thou promised truly by the Father, giving speech to tongues. 4. Inflame our senses with Thy light, pour Thy love into our hearts, strengthen our weak bodies with lasting power. 5. Drive far away the enemy, grant peace at all times: so under Thy guidance may we avoid all evil. 6. Grant us by Thee to know the Father and to know the Son, and Thee, Spirit of both, may we always believe. 7. To God the Father be glory, to the Son Who rose from the dead and to the Comforter, for all ages. Amen.

The musical score for measures 37-41 features four vocal staves (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) and a piano accompaniment. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The vocal parts sing the lyrics "ul - tent, ex - ul - tent in re - ge — su - o, ex -" with a crescendo leading to a forte (f) dynamic. The piano accompaniment provides harmonic support with chords and moving lines in both hands.

Glory in the highest to God. And on earth peace to men of good will. We praise you. We bless you. We worship you. We give you glory. We thank you on account of the greatness of your glory. Lord God, King of Heaven, God the Father all-powerful. Lord only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ. Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, Who takes away the sin of the world, have mercy on us. Who takes away the sin of the world, receive our supplications. Who sits at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are holy. You alone are the Lord. You alone are most high, Jesus Christ. With the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

Ave Verum Corpus – notes, pronunciation and translation

Mozart's beloved motet, Ave Verum Corpus, was composed in June of 1791, for his friend, Anton Stoll, a school teacher and choirmaster of the small parish church of St. Stephan in Baden, a spa-town located near Vienna which was famous for its hot thermal mineral springs. Mozart's wife, Costanze, was pregnant with their sixth child and was ill, and so she was staying at the Baden spa for treatment ("taking the waters"). The work was written almost as a payment to Stoll, who had often helped Mozart by making travel arrangements to and from Baden for Constanze.

Writing very simply, Mozart was perhaps conscious of the limitations of a small-town choir, the manuscript for this work is dated June 17, 1791, and was presumably intended for the feast of Corpus Christi, which fell that year on June 23. Originally scored for SATB chorus, strings and organ, the work was completed just six months before his death, and contains just the minimal directions of Adagio and *sotto voce. Tempo indication, dynamics, breathing and other markings are purely editorial.

Sotto voce*, translated from the Italian as the "under the voice" is a direction that a musical passage is to be performed in a more subdued tone.

Conductors should pay close attention to the alla breve ("cut time") indication, which implies that the half note, and not the quarter note, is the principal unit of the pulse. This makes for a very slow beat in the adagio tempo, and as such this is not to say that the motet cannot be conducted in 4, but simply that the primary emphasis of the bars (and thus the text) should be on beats 1 and 3 in the measure.

English translation

Hail, true Body,
born of the Virgin Mary,
who having truly suffered, was sacrificed
on the cross for mankind, whose pierced side
flowed (with water) and blood:
May it be for us a foretaste (of the Heavenly banquet)
in the trial of death.
